Dear Sir,

I hope you are doing well.

This email is being written to formally express serious concern regarding the continuously deteriorating condition of mess services despite our earlier discussions and repeated communications.

During the meeting held on 20 February, multiple issues related to food quality, hygiene standards, staffing, and service management were discussed in detail. At that time, you acknowledged the concerns and assured that the necessary improvements would be implemented. Unfortunately, instead of improvement, the situation has continued to worsen.

We would like to bring the following matters to your immediate attention:

1. Use of Local / Unapproved Spices

Today during lunch it was observed that local spices were being used instead of the approved branded products. Upon inquiry, the mess manager informed that approximately 10 kg of each type of spice from this local brand had already been procured and used for several days.

If such items were mistakenly supplied by the vendor, they should have been returned immediately. Even in emergency situations, such substitutions should not be made without informing or taking consent from the Mess Committee.

2. Use of Local Brands in Other Food Items

It has also been observed that products such as sevai and cornflakes are being sourced from local brands, whereas the agreement clearly specifies the approved brands to be used. Such compromises with food quality are unacceptable.

3. Expired Food Item Served

It was also noticed that the bhujia served during the evening snacks was expired, which is a serious concern regarding food safety and hygiene.

4. Extremely Poor Food Quality After the Holi Break

Since students returned from the Holi break, proper meals have not been served consistently. The food quality has been extremely poor and tasteless, and it has also been observed that the regular cook has not resumed duty after the holidays.

5. Dinner Timing Issue

Dinner is frequently finishing by around 9:00 PM, leaving several students without proper meals. For a hostel mess where students depend entirely on this service, such management is unacceptable.

6. No Improvement After the February 20 Meeting

Despite the assurances provided during the meeting, the issues discussed have not been resolved. In fact, the condition of the mess service has further deteriorated.

7. Unacceptable Response from Mess Staff

When the issue regarding the use of local spices was raised, the manager responded that only 1 kg of the spice remained and therefore it would continue to be used. Such a response reflects a lack of accountability toward students' concerns.

Students expect basic food quality, hygiene, and respectful service standards. We are humans, not animals, and it is unacceptable for students to be served food under such compromised conditions.

For clarity and transparency, photographs of the local food products currently being used in the mess are attached below for your reference.

Therefore, as per the agreement, a one-day penalty equivalent to one-third of the daily service charge (₹8,586) is applicable in cases where the agreed standards are not maintained. Students have effectively not received proper meals for the past three days, which technically justifies penalties for all those days. However, at present, we are considering applying the penalty for only one day.

If the situation continues without immediate corrective action, the students may be compelled to apply further penalties as per the agreement and suspend mess operations until the services meet the agreed standards, and the matter may also be escalated to the appropriate administrative authorities.

We request you to treat this matter with urgency and ensure that the mess services strictly follow the agreed standards of quality, hygiene, and management.

We look forward to your immediate response and corrective action.

Sincerely,
Mess Committee
(On behalf of the Students)
